Test Pile Driving Begins for The Green Build Terminal 2 Expansion

WHAT: Beginning August 9, test pile driving for the foundation of the Terminal 2 expansion will get under way, with increased activity in September.

The Airport Authority recognizes that this activity may potentially impact airport neighbors and passengers traveling through Terminal 2, and we ask for your patience and understanding as we proceed with this phase of construction.

WHY: The piles are needed to provide support for the framework of the 460,000 square-foot addition to Terminal 2. To minimize disruption, the holes for the piles will be predrilled. However, depending on proximity to the pile driving, you may hear noise or feel vibration.

WHEN: Pile driving will begin in August and last several months. Activity will take place during daytime hours only, from approximately 7:00 a.m.-5 p.m.

WHERE: Pile driving activity will be located to the west of the existing terminal.

About The Green Build

The Green Build will bring a number of long-awaited upgrades to passengers traveling in and out of San Diego International Airport, including 10 new gates, a dual-level roadway in front of Terminal 2 to separate arriving and departing passengers and reduce curb front congestion, more security lanes, expanded waiting areas and more shopping and dining options. The Green Build, a $1 billion project, will create 1,000 jobs at peak construction. Travelers can expect to take advantage of the finished facilities in 2013.

The Green Build means big opportunities for local small, disadvantaged, minority or woman-owned and disabled veteran businesses in the San Diego region. Learn more and register to be kept informed of future opportunities.

In 2009, passengers rated San Diego International Airport 88% in overall passenger satisfaction, the highest in six years of surveying.
